

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of Banks, Relative to Savings Banks, Trust Companies, Safe Deposit Companies, and Miscellaneous Corporations.

STATE OF NEW YORK:

BANKING DEPARTMENT,

ALBANY, March 14, 1908.

To the Honorable the Speaker of the Assembly:

Sir — In accordance with the provisions of chapter 689 of the Laws of 1892, I have the honor to transmit to the Legislature the annual report of this Department relating to savings banks, trust companies, safe deposit companies and miscellaneous corporations.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

CLARK WILLIAMS,

Superintendent.

REPORT.

To the Legislature:

The annual report of the Superintendent of Banks submitted to the Legislature on the first day of January, 1908, contrary to custom, dealt with matters falling without the fiscal year ending on the 30th of September preceding its submission to the Legislature. That report contained a discussion of events which occurred since the close of the fiscal year, and prior to January 1, 1908. Recommendations of legislation were also embodied therein. I shall, therefore, transmit to your honorable body this report required by statute without repetitious comment or further discussion of matters already submitted for your consideration.

THE SAVINGS BANKS.

The Universal Savings Bank in New York and the American Savings Bank in Buffalo were authorized during the year 1907, making the number of savings banks engaged in business in the State, and reporting to this Department January 1, 1908, 138. The Amsterdam Savings Bank, in New York, which was authorized in 1906, did not open for business, and so, under the law, forfeited its rights and privileges as a corporation.

A certificate to incorporate the Prudential Savings Bank in Brooklyn was filed during the year 1907, but the institution has not as yet been authorized to begin business.

The organization of the Borough Savings Bank of Brooklyn, the certificate of incorporation of which was filed in April, 1907, has been abandoned.

Business depression, depreciation in the value of securities and other unusual conditions characterizing the year necessarily had their effect upon the savings banks in common with other classes of financial institutions. Though the aggregate of amounts deposited had never before been so large in any one year except in 1906, the withdrawals were altogether without precedent, exceeding the record of any former year by forty-three million dollars, and for the first time since 1893 overtopping the deposits received. This excess of withdrawals over deposits for the year amounted to $31,608,897.75 — the deposits having been $390,095,749.01 and the withdrawals $421,704,646.76. Dividends credited prevented a decrease for the year in total resources, which were $1,465,295,677.92, a gain of only $344,844.52 since the preceding January, though the amount due depositors increased $18,363,253.72 in the same period.

The surplus of the savings banks, based upon the reported market value of their stock and bond investments, decreased $18,936,989.94 during the year, while par value surplus gained $7,830,871.39; in January, 1907, the market value of the stocks and bonds held was something like thirty-six million dollars under cost, and in January, 1908, the difference had increased to nearly sixty millions during the year, the number of savings banks paying interest to depositors at the rate of four per cent. on at least some part of their deposits increased from seventy-six to ninety-seven. There are two savings banks in the list which pay interest at the rate of three per cent., two that pay three and three and a half per cent., and thirty-seven that pay the uniform rate of three and a half per cent. Compacting the comparison, the reports of the savings banks for the years 1906 and 1907 compare in the aggregate as to some of their items as follows:

The State tax on surplus paid by the savings banks in 1907 was \$762,515.08, a reduction of \$34,286.92 from the amount paid the preceding year. The aggregate of expenses of all of the savings banks, inclusive of this franchise tax, all other taxes, salaries, rents, etc., was \$4,771,208.79 as against \$4,640,037.64 in 1906, an increase of \$131,171.15. The percentage of expense to assets was $3\frac{1}{4}$ tenths of one per cent., or \$3.25 to each \$,000 of assets, which is an increase of nine cents from 1906.

CLOSED AND FAILED SAVINGS BANKS.

The amount due to depositors of the closed Hope Savings Bank in Albany, $320.71, was paid over in 1907 to the Superintendent of Banks, as the Banking Law requires, and thus a matter which has been for ten years in course of adjustment was finally settled.

The total of unclaimed deposits of closed savings banks and trust companies held by the Superintendent on January 1, 1908, was $74,084.81. The amount paid to depositors who filed and established their claims during the year was only $2.90.

The moneys now in this fund, their amounts originally, the rates of dividends declared in the cases of failed savings banks and the aggregate of payments made by the Superintendent to those to whom the deposits belonged are shown herewith:

THE TRUST COMPANIES.

Only two trust companies were chartered during the year 1907, the Irving and the International, both of New York, and each capitalized at half a million dollars. Before beginning business the former changed its name to the Fidelity Trust Company and increased its capital to $750,000. The International Trust Company continued in business less than a month.

The Carnegie Trust Company, with a special charter granted by the Legislature in 1898; opened for business on January second, 1907, with a capital of one million dollars, which was increased in the following April to a million five hundred thousand dollars; and the New Netherlands Trust Company, authorized in November, 1906, opened for business in April, 1907, having changed its corporate title to the Astor Trust Company, and having increased its capital from one million dollars to one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The New Rochelle Trust Company increased its capital during the year from one hundred thousand to two hundred thousand dollars. The Home Trust Company of New York, in Brooklyn, increased its capital from half a million dollars to seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. This increase had not been fully paid in, however, at the date of the company's January report. The only decrease of capital during the year was in the case of the Commonwealth Trust Company, New York, which reduced its capital from five hundred thousand to a quarter of a million dollars. The Colonial Trust Company was merged into the Trust Company of America in April, 1907. Otherwise there were no changes in the trust companies during the year, except that the Jenkins Trust Company and the Williamsburg Trust Company in Brooklyn, and the Knickerbocker Trust Company in New York closed their doors in October.

A certificate to incorporate the Geneva Trust Company was filed in 1907.

The trust companies reporting to the Superintendent of Banks as of the morning of January first, 1908, with the capital, the book value surplus and the market value surplus of each were:

MISCELLANEOUS CORPORATIONS.

Only one mortgage, loan and investment company was authorized to do business during the year 1907, namely: The Thrift, Brooklyn, with a capital of $250,000 and a surplus somewhat larger.

The Bankers' Mortgage Guarantee Company of New York ceased to do business in April, 1907, and is in the process of voluntary dissolution, and in the case of the Mercantile Guaranty Company of New York, which has been out of business practically for two years, a decree dissolving the corporation is pending.

The corporations of this class now engaged in business are:

Name and Location of Corporation.	Capital.
Hudson Mortgage Company, New York City.....	$100,000
Long Island Bond and Mortgage Company, Jamaica.....	200,000
Mortgage-Bond Company of New York, The, New York City....	2,000,000
New York Investors' Corporation, New York City.....	100,000
New York Mortgage Company, New York City.....	150,000
New York Mortgage and Security Company, New York City....	1,000,000
The Thrift, Brooklyn	250,000

No foreign mortgage company is at present under license to do business in this State.

The status of the Equitable Securities Company of New York and of the Investment Securities Company of New York continues unchanged. Their only business consists in liquidating respectively the Equitable Mortgage Company and the Jarvis-Conkling Mortgage and Trust Company of Missouri.

Two associations were incorporated in 1907, under the provisions of chapter 326 of the Laws of 1895 as amended, for the loaning of money upon the pledge of personal property. They are the Commonwealth Credit Company of Buffalo and the Municipal Credit Company of Elmira. One such corporation, the Mutual Credit Company, Buffalo, went out of existence during the year. Eighteen companies have filed reports and the bonds required by the statute this year, as follows:

American Credit Company of Buffalo,
 Buffalo Security Company, Buffalo,
 Capital City Loan Company, Albany,
 Cayuga Loan Company, Auburn,
 City Credit Company, New York,
 Commonwealth Credit Company, Buffalo,
 Erie County Loan Company of Buffalo, N. Y., The,

* Decrease, $9,357,278. † Decrease, $2,982,917. The amount of deposits January 1, 1876, of savings banks that failed during the year was $5,097,310. There was, therefore, an increase in the aggregate of deposits of savings banks that continued business during 1876 amounting to $2,514,303. ‡ Decrease, $3,854,227. The amount of deposits January 1, 1877, of savings banks that failed during the year was $2,078,218. The decrease in deposits of savings banks continuing business was $1,776,009. § Decrease, $13,748,419. The amount of surplus shown January 1, 1878, was based upon market value of stocks and cost of real estate, while the surplus of January 1, 1880, and of all succeeding years is based upon market value of both stocks and real estate. Upon this latter basis the surplus of January 1, 1879, is $31,728,824, making a gain in surplus for the year of $3,058,128.  Real estate was reported January 1, 1879, at cost, and January 1, 1880, and each succeeding year at estimated market value. †† Decrease, $12,268,825.
